

THE TWILIGHT OWL

Ariana Tadler Paterson and Penelope Tadler, Editors

2010 Season: Issue 5, Aug. 13-15, 2010

The Big August 2010 Weekend, with activities galore!

This weekend is one that we all look forward to! First, there is the 63rd Annual Twilight Park Art Show. With submissions by Twilighters and nearby neighbors, we have the unique opportunity to view and even purchase the works of phenomenally talented artists with works in a variety of media. Twilighters are invited to the opening cocktail party as well as a guided tour for a small fee.

Then, of course, there is the Tarnowski Tennis Cup – now an annual event, which brings players and viewers down to the courts to enjoy a weekend of intense tennis.

Finish up with a cocktail and a bite to eat at the Silver Trowel Party, where all are welcome and Twilighters with the greenest of thumbs are celebrated.

Twilighters are encouraged to take advantage of the beautiful weather and time to be with friends and family. Take a walk around the park, stop in at the tennis courts and watch a heated match or just sit by the pool and soak up the sun.

TWELKA CUP RECAP

TWILIGHTERS SCORE BIG!!!

A near shut out...

WE ARE THE CHAMPIONS!!!

Twilight Ping Pong Co-Captain John Gordon reports:

In a hotly contested match on August 1st, the Twilight Twelkans dominated the Elkan Twelkans, displaying racket skills beyond comprehension as they dominated the competition from start to finish.

Twilight Park's spacious clubhouse was the venue this year. As the two o'clock hour approached, dozens of rabid, Twilight pong aficionados flooded the spectator sections. At the top of the hour, the main Elkan contingent arrived en masse, having reportedly gathered timidly near the Twilight Gate House until a critical mass was reached. Soon thereafter, Ipod technician Alex Sade, husband to Twilight Co-Captain, Ellen Lasch, cranked up the fully appropriate "We Are The Champions", by Freddie Mercury & Queen. The Twilight team, mostly dressed in dark green Twilight Park t-shirts with an ominous owl adorning the front, and khaki shorts, entered the clubhouse sashaying to the rhythmic music and with that the tournament began.

Every one of the matches was closely contested, with tremendous skills displayed, extensive rallies, formidable slams, and impressive defense. In the humble judgment of Co-Captain Gordon, the 2010 Twelka Cup Tournament featured the best all-around ping pong playing in the history of the Event!

Final score:

Twilight 8, Elka 1

For more details on this exciting event, please check out Co-Captain Gordon's article on the Twilight Park website. To receive a copy, you may also call John at (518) 589-6540, or email him at jrg07@aol.com.

Details of the matches played:

Kids under 12: Ryan Clare (Twilight) versus Eion Sansevero (Elka)

Kids 12 to 16: Will Bennett (Twilight) versus Aiden Gibbons (Elka)

Ladies:

Seed 1: Laura Clare (Twilight) versus Peggy Burke (Elka)

Seed 2: Ellen Lasch (Twilight) versus Catherine Tangney (Elka)

Seed 3: Nora Monaco (Twilight) versus Tina Constable (Elka)

Men:

Seed 1: Than Ferris (Twilight) versus Jack Stolarz (Elka)

Seed 2: Jeff Ferris (Twilight) versus Brian Flynn (Elka)

Seed 3: John Galatti (Twilight) versus Rob Constable (Elka)

Seed 4: John Gordon (Twilight) versus Pat Gibbons (Elka)

LADIES' NIGHT OUT... AND ITS EVOLUTION

Submitted by Sally Morse Maurer

(to the best of her recollection...)

In the 1970's, long-time Twilighter, Alice Hay (Church Lane) held Thursday open houses -- ALICE HAY AT HOME -- serving cocktails (wine was not the preferred drink!), cucumber sandwiches and nuts. She had said that at her age this would be a way for her to meet the newer and/or younger cottagers.

After a dry spell, Joanne Ainsworth and Sue Fisher began to invite several women friends for cocktails followed by dinner at a restaurant while their children were at their weekly camp-out.

Fast forward to recent years, when Ladies' Night Out mushroomed to an average of 20 women for drinks and hors d'oeuvres, hosted by various cottagers at their homes, the Club House, or the Tennis Deck. Sometimes a theme or contest was included. For example, Hendy Dayton requested everyone to write an original limerick, preferably about Twilight. Don't even ask about sweet, granny Anne Pratt's naughty ditty!

At the most recent gathering, hosted by Mary Douglass, Sarah Post, and Laura Henson at the Deckers' cottage, nearly 40 women enjoyed drinks and platters of salad, shrimp, deviled eggs, cheeses and so on... Ladies had been requested to wear something "Twilighty." Annie Memhard Braunstein wore an exquisite silver owl necklace, and Mimi Haik wore a vacuum cleaner hose around her shoulders with a handmade hat of owls and bats! And to prove even further how much these evenings have evolved, at this affair -- babysitting was available from 6 to 10 pm. Here's to Twilight Spirits!!!!
